

Law Office of

Chamberlain, Carter & Eaton,

346 Broadway,

Daniel H. Chamberlain,
Walter S. Carter,
Sherburne Blake Eaton,
William B. Hornblower.

New York Oct. 30 1877

Dear Mr. Garrison:

279 We wish at once to send you our thanks for your faithful letter in the Times of today. Our estimate of it is shorthly expressed by saying that "it is worthy of its author."
Its temper is so calm that its opinions and conclusions are strengthened almost beyond dispute. It was a great privilege to us to read it and it must be that it will do great good throughout the whole country. The Hayes politicians will sneer, apparently, but at heart your voice will sound like a final verdict of condemnation. Behind your letter stands the great record of your life and the fact of your almost unerring vision in all the phases and all the crises of this long struggle. Hayes and Evans know and know that. You may be sure. Heaven bless and keep you to guide and encourage us all to do our duty in such a cause. With our warmest personal respects Yours very sincerely

Mr. & Mrs. D. H. Chamberlain